UWNQC

Utah Women & Newborns Quality Collaborative

Opioid Use Disorder Safety Bundle Committee 2020 Progress

The project launch meeting had over 100 attendees from 37 organizations and we are collaborating with Wyoming hospitals to implement the Opioid Use Disorder Safety Bundle. One key goal is educating clinicians on the various aspects of the Safety Bundle via tele-education sessions. Our format is to give a presentation on our selected topic and then have open time for Questions and Answers and discussion around implementation in their facilities. We hosted 13 telehealth sessions on various aspects of the Safety Bundle with over 185 participants from 70 organizations. The sessions are recorded and available on YouTube. These used to be managed by the University of Utah Project ECHO team and now we are doing in-house via Zoom.

We were able to obtain AIM funding for an Implicit Bias in Maternal Healthcare Project. This project involves offering maternal clinicians in Utah and Wyoming free access to the online course Breaking Through Implicit Bias in Maternal Healthcare that was co-developed by Quality Interactions and March of Dimes. We are doing debrief sessions and surveys with participants with the goal of publishing a summary of our findings. Opioid Use Disorder Resource folders are also being developed for each Utah and Wyoming hospital.

Opioid Use Disorder Resources for Women and Families website was launched that offers resources for during pregnancy, caring for your baby and for families. Please provide this information to your patients and anyone who could benefit from this information.